Gender Equality in Primary Schools in Sub-Saharan Africa: Review and Analysis

Robert Osadan and Irish Angelica Burrage

Developing countries like those in Africa's Sub-Saharan region struggle with gender inequality issues in primary schools, an impediment that keeps these countries from progressing economically as well as socially. Despite the struggle, international awareness coupled with continuous initiatives of various international groups like United Nations Girls' Education Initiative, UNESCO's Education for All, plus other government organizations, find concrete ways to permanently and effectively address gender disparity in education.

撒哈拉南非洲小学性别平等：回顾与分析

Robert Osadan and Irish Angelica Burrage

撒哈拉以南非洲地区等发展中国家的对小学的性别不平等问题的斗争是这些国家的经济进步和社会的障碍。尽管有这些斗争，联合国女童教育倡议，教科文组织全民教育，加上其他政府组织的各种国际组织的持续行动的国际知名度，找到具体的方法来永久地，有效地解决教育中的性别差距。
